FORTIETH CONGRESS.

Senate Special Committee on Impeachment Corruption—The Bill to Admit Arkansas to Congressional Representation Considered — House Proceedings—Indian Appropriation Bill Considered—Bill to Regulate Inspection of Imports Passed.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, May 28, 1868.

SENATE.

The chair appointed as the Select Committee, called for by Mr. Ross's resolution for investigation into the allegations of the use of improper influences in the impeachment trial, Messrs. Buckalew, Morrill, (Maine,) Stewart, Chandler and Thayer.

The Senate insisted upon its amendments to the Army Appropriation bill, and asked a Committee of Conference.

Mr. DOOLITTLE presented a memorial from Conservatives of South Carolina against the adoption of the new Constitution of that State.

Mr. CONNESS introduced a bill to extend the time for the construction of the Southern Pacific Railroad of California, which was referred.

Mr. RAMLEY introduced a similar joint resolution, in the case of the Northern Pacific R. R. Referred.

Also, a resolution asking the President for copies of correspondence with Great Britain in relation to a Postal Treaty. Adopted.

Mr. MORGAN introduced a joint resolution to provide for the reduction of interest on the Public Debt. Referred to the Committee on Finance.

Mr. EDWARDS, offered a resolution of thanks to Mr. Stanton for his course during and since the war.

Mr. HENDRICKS objected and it went over.

On motion of Mr. ANTHONY, the President was requested to communicate the correspondence with the diplomatic representatives of the U. S. relative to the law prohibiting the wearing of any uniform or official costume not previously authorized by Congress.

Indefinite leave of absence granted Mr. Davis, because of illness in his family.

The bill for the construction of a jail in the District of Columbia was amended and passed.

Mr. ROSS introduced a resolution requesting the House to furnish the Senate Committee appointed to investigate the charges of corruption in connection with the trial of the President with copies of all testimony relative thereto taken by the House Impeachment Managers.

Mr. CONNESS said it was improper to make the request until all the testimony was taken, and it doubtless would be then sent to the Senate.

Mr. SUMNER objected and the resolution went over.

The Arkansas bill was called up.

The question was on Mr. Ferris' amendment striking out all fundamental conditions to the admission.

Mr. DRAKE opposed it, maintaining that none of the rebel States could be admitted until the fourteenth article became part of the Constitution. He held the votes of twenty-eight States were necessary, and that Ohio and New Jersey had a right at any time previous to official promulgation of the adoption of the amendment to withdraw their assent. He said, in addition, we have got along without these States for seven years, and can get along without them for seven months longer.

Mr. MORTON favored the immediate admission of Arkansas, and held that Mr. Drake's theory was impracticable, unless that of Mr. Sumner was correct, that the amendment was already ratified, the lately rebellious having ceased to be States because the fourteenth article required the ratification to be recognized in the Constitutions of the States.

Mr. McCREERY read from manuscript a speech on the general subject of reconstruction.

At three o'clock, without action on the pending amendments, the Senate went into Executive session.

The Senate continued in Executive session several hours, and immediately after the doors were re-opened adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES.

Mr. PAINE introduced a bill to construe the pension acts and law giving additional bounties. Referred.

Mr. BROMWELL asked unanimous consent to adjourn from Friday till Monday, on account of Saturday being set apart for decorating the graves of soldiers.

Mr. BLAINE objected.

Mr. EGGLESTON, from the Committee on Commerce, reported a bill to regulate the appraisment and inspection of imports, which, after discussion, was amended by excepting from its provisions distilled spirits and wines, and passed under the operation of the previous question—66 to 64.

The bill is as follows:

Be it enacted, whenever any merchandise, other than distilled spirits and wines, shall be imported into any port of entry of the United States, it shall appear by the invoice or bill of lading, or either of them, and the manifests, that such merchandise is consigned to and destined for another port of entry in the interior, the collector at the port of arrival shall permit the owner, agent or consignee of such merchandise to make entry for warehouse and transportation, and on the execution of a bond, as in the case of withdrawal from transportation, in a sum equal to double the amount in the invoice of such merchandise, the same shall be delivered to the owner or consignee to be transported to the port of its destination, and such merchandise shall not be subject to examination or appraisement at the port at which it was landed, but the same examination and appraisement shall be required and had at the port of destination as if such merchandise had been entered for consumption, and the duties paid at the port at which it first arrived and was landed.

SEC. 2. That such merchandise shall be forwarded only by established transportation companies, who shall become responsible to the United States as common carriers for the delivery of such merchandise to the Collector at the port of its destination, and any person who shall interfere to prevent or delay the delivery of such merchandise or any part thereof shall be liable to a fine equivalent to double the value of such merchandise, and imprisonment at hard labor for not less than one year or more than five years.

SEC. 3 That the transportation bond required by the 1st section of this act may be executed at the port of destination before the collector of customs thereat, who will certify to the sufficiency of the sureties for the amount of the penalty therein, and who shall transmit said bond and justification to the collector of the port of original importation; that said bond shall be executed by two or more sureties who shall justify by affidavit, to be attached to said bond, in at least double the amount of the penalty of the bond, and the Secretary of the Treasury is hereby authorized and instructed to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary, and not inconsistent with law, to carry into effect this act.

SEC. 4. The State of Missouri shall be in one Collection District, to be called the District of Missouri, of which the city of St. Louis shall be the sole port of entry, and a collector shall be appointed to reside at said port of entry.

SEC. 5. That all that portion of the State of Ohio, bordering on the waters and shores of the Ohio river, shall be one Collection District, and be called the District of Ohio, of which the city of Cincinnati shall be the sole port of entry, and a collector shall be appointed to reside at said port of entry.

SEC. 6. That an Appraiser of imported merchandise shall be appointed to reside at each of the ports of Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati, who shall be paid a salary of $2,000 per annum; also at any port of entry where, in the judgment of the Secretary, such Appraiser shall be needed, with a salary not exceeding $1,000 per annum, as he may establish.

SEC. 7. That the salary of each of the Collectors for the ports of Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati shall be $2,000 per annum, with fees and commissions, not exceeding a maximum yearly compensation of $4,000, and that all fees and commissions from whatever source collected exceeding the compensation of said collections aforesaid shall be paid into the Treasury for the use of the United States.

Mr. EGGLESTON also reported a joint resolution directing the Secretary of War to have a scientific examination made as to the location of the Louisville bridge across the Ohio, which passed.

The House went into Committee on the Indian appropriation bill, and after the rejection of a motion by Mr. SCHENCK, to first consider the tax bill, proceeded with the details of the first named bill.

Without conclusive action the Committee rose.

Mr. BINGHAM offered a resolution placing rooms A and B in the Capitol as a guard room and office for the Capitol police in order, the object being the providing of a room for the detention of persons ordered into the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms, the present occasion for its use being the case of Mr. Wooley. He moved the previous question, which was seconded.

A large number of dilatory motions were made and rejected, during which Mr. ELDRIDGE made an appeal from a decision of the Speaker.

The appeal was tabled.

A call of the House was the occasion of many more dilatory motions.

Mr. MORGAN asked Mr. Bingham whether Mr. Wooley had been refused the privilege of consulting with his counsel?

Mr. BINGHAM declined to answer until he had leave from his colleague, but after several more votes, at half-past eight o'clock, made a statement that no such refusal had been made.

The SPEAKER stated the Sergeant-at-Arms had asked him if Mr. Wooley could have access to his counsel, and he replied in the affirmative and at any time.

Mr. BINGHAM desired to have a vote taken on the resolution before the House, and then to have the other resolution offered, understood to be to commit Mr. Wooley to close confinement, and then go over till to-morrow.

Mr. HIGBEE objected, and persisted in his objection despite the remonstrances of Republicans, who urged there was no condition embraced in the proposition.

The Sergeant-at-Arms had several times, within the last two hours, brought in absentees. A quorum was obtained at about ten o'clock, and Mr. Burr's motion to lay Mr. Bingham's resolution on the table having been negatived—28 to 93—the resolution was adopted without the yeas and nays.

Mr. Bingham then proposed to offer the second resolution, in order that it might be passed pro forma, a motion to reconsider entered, and be discussed to-morrow, when the vote would be taken at two o'clock.

The second resolution directs that Mr. Wooley be kept in close confinement until he shall answer, and meanwhile no person shall communicate with him in writing or verbally except by order of the House. Adjourned.

Bill to Reduce Public Debt Interest — Situation at the War Department — Gen. Schofield's Nomination—A Hitch—Nominations Confirmed and Rejected.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BILL TO REDUCE PUBLIC DEBT INTEREST.

WASHINGTON, May 28, 1868.

The following is Mr. Morgan's bill, introduced in the Senate. It authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue coupons or registered bonds of the United States in such form and of such denominations as he may prescribe, redeemable in coin, at the pleasure of the United States, after twenty, thirty or forty years respectively, and bearing the following rates of interest, payable semi-annually in coin, viz: The issue of bonds falling due in twenty years shall bear interest at five per cent.; those payable in thirty years at four and a half per cent., and the forty year bonds at four per centum. All these bonds shall be exempt from taxation in any form, or under State, municipal or local authority, and with the interest thereon and the income therefrom shall be exempt from the payment of all taxes or duties to the United States, other than such income tax as may be assessed on other incomes. The bonds are to be exclusively used for the redemption of the principal, by exchange or in payment at the option of the holders thereof, for any of the present interest bearing debt of the United States other than the existing five per cent. bonds and the three per cent. certificates, and may be issued to an amount sufficient in the aggregate to cover all the principal of all outstanding obligations as limited herein, and no more, but not to exceed one-third part of the whole sum shall be of the issue redeemable in twenty years.

SITUATION AT THE WAR DEPARTMENT.

Affairs at the War Department are unchanged. Gen. Townsend is still in possession of the office. Gen. Thomas was at the Department during the forenoon, but did not engage in any business. The door of the eastern entrance to the building, which had been closed for several weeks past, by order of Mr. Stanton, was unlocked this morning.

GEN. SCHOFIELD'S NOMINATION.

The Senate was engaged during several hours this afternoon discussing the nomination of Gen. Schofield. The debate was principally confined to the phraseology of the President's message, in which it was said that Gen. Schofield had been nominated as Secretary of War in place of E. M. Stanton, removed. The difficulty was that the majority of the Senate had declared that the President had no power to remove Mr. Stanton and to designate Gen. Thomas to perform the duties of the office ad interim. Therefore a vote for the confirmation, within the language of the nomination, would be to stultify themselves and to admit that the President does possess that power. The consideration of the nomination will be resumed to-morrow. Senators say there is no doubt it will ultimately be confirmed, with, perhaps, an explanatory appendage.

A CAUCUS.

A Republican caucus of members of the House was called yesterday for to-night week. The purpose of the caucus is to consult with reference to the setting of a time for the adjournment of the session and arranging public business to that end.

NOMINATIONS CONFIRMED.

The Senate to-day confirmed the following nominations: A. Huggan, Attorney for Idaho; Homer G. Plants, Attorney for Southern District of Alabama; W. W. Thatcher, Assessor of Internal Revenue for Eighth District, Tennessee; A. K. Osborne, Collector of Internal Revenue, Fifth District, Missouri; Franklin Haven, Jr., Assistant Treasurer at Boston, in place of T. P. Chandler, whose commission has expired.

APPOINTMENTS REJECTED.

The Senate rejected the following nominations: Thomas Sim, Marshal for South Carolina; Joel B. McCaryant, Assessor of Internal Revenue for the 10th District of Pennsylvania; James B. Hubbley, Collector of Internal Revenue for Montana; S. P. McCurdy, Associate Justice Supreme Court of Utah.

BECOME A LAW.

It was expected the President would to-day return to the Senate with his objections the bill amendatory of the city charter and extending it one year; but this he has not done, nor has he approved the bill. It, however, became a law to-day by virtue of the ten days constitutional limitation. It takes from the Mayor the appointment of corporation subordinate officers and vests it in the Board of Aldermen and Board of Common Council in joint convention, to be presided over by the Mayor, and also abolishes the property qualification, also the former distinction of white in connection with election to office.

The Haytien Revolution.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

HAVANA, May 27.—Dates from Hayti, of the 18th, state that Luben's troops had been attacked by the rebels near the capital, and were repulsed. A proclamation has been issued calling all the citizens under arms. On the 17th a general attack by Salnave on the rebel line was repulsed, and the troops had to fall back into the capital, having lost eighty men.

The British gunboat Royalist got ashore at Port au Prince. After the commander effected the release of imprisoned foreigners she steamed to the out harbor, where she got aground.

The United States man-of-war Desota arrived on the 17th, but as she was short of provisions proceeded the next day to Key West.

Despite the protestations of the American Minister, who had promised to secure the lives of all Americans, and those who had taken refuge in Legatia, a general attack was renewed in the afternoon, on the south side of the city, but the result was still unknown when the mail left Port au Prince. Salnavo still threatens to burn the Capital if the rebels beat him, but the American Minister is determined to prevennt them if possible.

Advices from Caras to the 7th inst. state that Marshal Brunseral had declared against the Government and Caras was in a state of seige. The national forces in the city were reduced to one thousand six hundred. Four thousand rebels had appeared on the hills around Caras and a decisive battle was imminent. The rebels will probably become masters of the capital.

RELIGIOUS.

Presbyterian General Assembly.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

ALBANY, May 28.—Rev. D. Hodge, from the Committee, reported in favor of the appointment of five representatives for conference upon the subject of Union with the churches in the Southern States, and recommended that if no union could be effected, a plan of confederation be adopted.

Rev Dr. Backus submitted the report of the Theological Seminaries. They are all in a flourishing condition. There are 211 scholars, of whom 84 are new students and 59 Graduates. He recommended Dr. N. L. Price for the vacant Professorship at Chicago.

Rev. Mr. Stewart and several other ministers ask for the appointment of Dr. J. E. Thomas. Action on the appointment was deferred.

The subject of re-union with the New School was discussed by Judge Findlay, of Philadelphia, in opposition, and Henry Day, of New York, in favor. Both speeches were able and eloquent. Judge Findlay believes, if re-united, a schism will soon occur, by disagreement in doctrinal faith, and believes a large proportion of the property will be endangered by legal difficulties.

The Presbyterian Assembly debate continued on the subject of re-union.

Dr. Engleson submitted the following amendment to the first article of the basis:

That the two following clauses be dropped from the third article, namely, it being understood that this confession is received in its proper historical (that is, the Calvanistic or Reformed) sense. It is also understood that the various methods of viewing, stating and illustrating the doctrines of the Confession which do not impair the integrity of the Reformed or Calvinistic system, are too seldom allowed in the United Church, as they have heretofore been allowed in the separate churches.

Dr. Engleson said, as a means of carrying forward the existing regulations to their completion, I propose at a proper time to offer the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Stated Clerk of the General Assembly be directed to transmit an attested copy of this amendment and these resolutions immediately, by telegraph, to the General Assembly, now in session at Harrisburg; that in case the General Assembly in session at Harrisburg should not receive this basis, as amended, in time to take action upon it at their present meeting, or if they should receive it in time, and decline to send it down as an overture to the Presbyteries under their care, then this General Assembly will continue and do hereby continue the Joint Committee on their part, with instructions to present it as an overture to the New School Presbyterian Church.

Adjourned till to-morrow.

Quadrennial Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CHICAGO, May 28.—Bishop Janes presided. Rev. Dr. Kidder submitted a resolution requesting Bishops to communicate to Conference whether in their judgment the Episcopal Board ought to be strengthened at this time. Tabled.

The Committee on Scandinavian work reported against the formation of a separate Conference for that people, but in favor of the paper printed by the Book Depository in Chicago, in the Swedish languoge, and in favor of establishing a theological depot for training ministers in the Scandinavian language. The last item of the report called out an earnest debate.

Rev. Dr. Osborn, of New York, spoke against the perpetuation of any foreign language in this country. He thought that when foreigners touch our shores they ought to drop all their foreign habits and their language in the sea, and become in fact as well as in name American citizens.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Bishop Scott presiding. Rev. Dr. Osbon, of New York, rose to a question of privilege. He said that in voting for the admission of two colored men as delegates the other day, he did so in good faith, and with the understanding that they were fully eligible. Mr. Haven, however, had stated in his speech this evening that said delegates had been voted into General Conference in violation of the rule which prescribes the qualifications of members. If they were not qualified he (Dr. Osbon) had voted for them in ignorance of that fact.

Rev. Mr. Mungen resumed the discussion of the lay delegation question. He was opposed to the report of the majority, because it was against all antecedent action of the Church and made up a new issue. The Church had once pronounced on the whole question, and he should oppose any action on the subject until the Church reversed its vote of 1861.

Dr. McClintock, of New York, spoke at length in reply to the constitutional argument made yesterday by Mr. Morrill. He cited numerous authorities to show that Conference possessed ample power to adopt the pending report; but while he fully believed this yet a compromise measure, he was willing to have it go to the annual Conferences for their concurrence.

True Progress in Tennessee.

We have the annexed report of a portion of the address delivered yesterday evening in the Allegheny Diamond, by Mr. BOKUM, the Commissioner of Emigration for Tennessee. The statements and deductions of the speaker an peculiarly forcible and practical, illustrating great progress, in the right direction, in one at least of the Southern States. Mr. Bokum commenced his address as follows:

The rebellion and its suppression have brought about an entire revolution in the industry of America, and Tennessee largely feels the powerful influence of this revolution. Before the war the importance attached to the raising of cotton and the obtaining of cheap food for her slaves, made her take a part in the policy which opposed manufacturers throughout the Union, so that the West, being left without a market in the East, might be compelled to furnish to the South the cheap food she needed for her slaves. In consequence of this policy, the producers found themselves at the mercy of the planters, and the planters in their turn at the mercy of the English manufacturers. In absence of the means of support which a diversity of employment furnished during every season of the year, a large portion of the citizens of Tennessee had to leave the state in order to seek employment somewhere else, while the non-slaveholding whites who remained behind were left without incitement to improve their condition, since, in the absence of an intelligent and remunerative agriculture, the soil became worse and worse exhausted. The ever widening gulf between the prosperity of the North and the decline of the South then brought in the rebellion and in sweeping away the institution of slavery gave rise to the adoption of a policy in harmony with the law, without which no state can enjoy permanent prosperity. Now Tennessee is fully alive to the fact that it is only by diversification of employment, that she can escape from the low condition to which her former policy has brought her, that she must bring to light her mineral wealth, that she must use her water power for the establishing of manufactures, that she must have a home market for her farmers, an increase of farmers to feed her consuming population, and that to attain this end she needs capital and the intelligent labor of the North. The day of emigration, when thousand of her children sought a home in other parts of the Union, has gone by, and the day of immigration, when by her wise policy she invites the capital and the labor of other States to her borders has come. It is a very sad experience through which she has arrived at this knowledge of her need. I do not only refer to the ravages of war, though they have been great; her saddest experience has been the impoverishing of her soil during years previous to the war, and the decline in the scale of wealth and of intelligence of a large portion of her population. But she has learned the lesson at last and a brighter future is dawning upon her. She no longer turns to England to do her manufacturing, or to the West to furnish her with cheap food, but she endeavors by the development of her own manufactures to obtain a market for her farmers, being mindful of the fact that by a healthy competition among her own people she is keeping within her own borders the wealth she produces, and thus benefits every class of her inhabitants.

I am glad to find in my intercourse with citizens of this city how true and enlightened a view they take of the change which is going on in the South. They are fully alive to the fact that if, by a development of her resources, Tennessee ceases in many instances to draw her supplies from the North, the new impulse given to her prosperity by the development of her own resources must in the end be the means of benefitting other parts of the Union.

We take pleasure in announcing that Mr. Bokum speaks in Manchester at 7½ o'clock this evening.

Washington Topics and Gossip.

Specials of Thursday say: General Thomas has again been refused possession of the War Department, and the President has informed him that he will be relieved of his ad interim office as soon as General Scofield is confirmed. Only about a dozen Senators will vote against him. General Schofield favors the election of Grant and Colfax. He will not resign his position in the army.

Mr. Seward will retire from the Cabinet in a few days. It is reported that Hon. Wm. M. Evarts will succeed him. Mr. Groesbeck will probably be made Attorney General in this case, but if Hon. C. F. Adams accepts the portfolio of State, Mr. Evarts will be tendered that of Attorney General.

Extensive arrangements have been made here to decorate with flowers the graves of the Union soldiers buried at Arlington Heights, on Saturday next, in pursuance of the General Orders of the Grand Army of the Republic. General James A. Garfield is to deliver an oration, and General H. E. Paine will read Lincoln's Gettysburg address.

Registration in this city closed yesterday. The majority of the white voters is over three thousand. During the last two or three days numbers presented thomselves to be registered who produced certificates of having taken the amnesty oath, and in most cases they succeeded in having their names placed upon the rolls.

A caucus of Republican Senators was held this morning, to take into consideration the propriety of accepting the resignation of Colonel Forney as Secretary of the Senate. After an interchange of opinion, which brought forth the fact that a great many, if not the majority of the Radicals were in favor of accepting the resignation at once, it was thought best to postpone action until next Monday. There was quite a little breeze in the caucus, occasioned by the presence of the six Republican Senators who voted for the acquittal of the President on the impeachment articles. This was objected to by many of the earnest Redicals, and Wade, Chandler, Cattell and others of the extreme Radicals at once withdrew, and refused to participate, while the recreant Senators were present. Ex-Senator Cresswell, of Maryland, is the candidate most prominently named as successor to Forney, and the indications are that he will be chosen on Monday next. It appears that Col. Forney is not so anxious to have his resignation accepted as he professed to be a few weeks ago, and it is understood that if the Senate would refuse to accept his resignation, this action would be perfectly acceptable to him. Beside Cresswell, Gen. J. S. Brisbin, Ex-Senator Foster, of Connecticut, Ex-Senator Fogg, of New Hampshire, Mr. McDonald, present Chief Clerk of the Senate, are applicants for the Secretaryship.

Soon after the Senate met, Senator Edmunds offered a joint resolution to the effect that the thanks of Congress be tendered to Hon. E. M. Stanton, for his fidelity to the country, and the able manner in which he has discharged the duties of his office, not only during the rebellion, but in the recent struggle to establish peace throughout the country, although assailed for so doing by the enemies of his country. Senator Hendricks objected to the resolution, and it went over until to-morrow.

The Pittsburgh Gazette.

THE MAID'S REMONSTRANCE.

BY THOMAS CAMPBELL.

Never wedding, ever wooing,
Still a love-born heart pursuing!
Read you not the wrong you're doing
In my cheek's pale hue?
All my life with sorrow strewing?
Wed, or cease to woo!

Rivals banished, bosoms plighted,
Still our days are disunited:
Now the lamp of hope is lighted,
Now half-quenched appears—
Damped, and wavering, and benighted,
Midst my sighs and tears.

Charms you call your dearest blessing,
Lips that thrill at your caressing,
Eyes a mutual soul confessing—
Soon you'll make them grow
Dim, and worthless your possessing,
Not with age, but woe!

GRANT.

BY GEORGE H. BOKER.

As Moses stood upon the flaming hill,
With the people gathered at his feet,
Waiting in Sinai's valley, there to meet
The awful bearer of Johnson's will,
So, Grant, thou stand'st amidst the trumpet's shrill,
And the wild fiery storms that flash and beat
In iron thunder and in leaden sleet,
Topmost of all, and most exposed to ill.
O, stand thou firm, great leader of our race,
Hope of our future till the times grow bland;
And into ashes drops war's dying brand;
Then let us see thee, with benignant grace,
Descend thy height, God's glory in thy face;
And the Lord's tables safe within thy hand!

Della Torre—Haight—At Naples, Thursday, April 30, in the Church of Santa Maria a Cappella by the Archbishop of St. Louis, Nina Christina Haight, daughter of the late Richard K. Haight, of the city of New York, U. S. A., to Giustiniano Capece Tomacelli Pilomarina, Duke Della Torre,

—The Cincinnati Commercial says a stranger from Pittsburgh, lost $260 at the hands of a couple of confidence men, at the corner of Fourth and Race streets, last evening. He loaned it to them on a worthless check for $3,500. At home he would have required a first-class mortgage security from his best friend for such a loan.

—A new fashion, which was started at Madame de Rothschild's ball, is the adoption of garlands of flowers instead of microscopic bits of green stuck in false hair. Natural flowers are preferred, and these are kept fresh all evening by quills being filled with fresh water and sealed at both ends. In these the flower stalks bathe their tips. Platts of hair hide the mechanism, and sometimes false hair is rolled round the quill, which is secured by hair-pins afterwards.

—The Pall Mall Gazette is very severe on the Abyssinian war. In speaking of the victory at Magdala it says: It is as if the four and twenty tailors had succeeded in killing their snail and carrying off his shell in triumph. The fuss made about sending 10,000 men to a place where they never encountered any serious resistance, was perhaps twenty times as great as the French found it necessary last autumn, when they sent a much larger force to Rome, with the prospect before them of provoking a European war.

NOT long ago, when they supposed it was possible to use him for their purposes, the Democrats were loud in their praises of Grant. Now—when his patriotism has proved superior to every temptation and his virtue has resisted every blandishment—they can hardly find language strong enough to express their contempt for him. The Rochester Union of yesterday calls him "an automaton" "a dummy in military trappings," and the New York World enters upon elaborate arguments to prove that he is no soldier at all, but simply an "accident." The hero Chieftain will survive these attacks, and come out triumphant as he did during the war, when this same class of papers stigmatized him as "a butcher," and "a blunderer." From some quarters, abuse is more desirable than praise.—Albany Evening Journal.

THE dramatic editor of the New York Tribune tells the story of the death, by consumption, of a member of the Broadway Theatre company, who had played two evenings before his demise, and whose inability to perform his part correctly was taken as a symptom of intoxication by the audience, and the poor actor hissed accordingly. The griefs of actors are, indeed, but little known by the general public, and the case of this poor fellow is but one of many others quite as sad, and quite as interesting.

SECURITY AND COMFORT FOR THE TRAVELING COMMUNITY.

J. B. HARRIS' SAFETY FIRE JACKET,

Car Heater and Moderator,

For SMOKE AND HOT AIR FLUES, dispensing with the use of Stoves and Fires in or about the Passenger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached.

Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be applied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended. It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues, or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect satisfaction where wood or other combustible material may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c., wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and security desired. I will sell, on application, rights to manufacture or to use the above invention; also, territorial rights, to such as may wish to engage in selling privileges, either by State or county.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 23, 1868.

CATTLE.

The operations in Cattle were remarkably insignificant this week, only reaching about sixty head, all told, which is next to nothing; indeed, there is not enough doing to give a character to the market or establish quotations. There were several lots on sale, and we noticed several eastern buyers in attendance, but buyers and sellers were too far apart to admit of many sales. Prime shipping Cattle, such as are suitable for retailing in the eastern markets, were held at 9 @ 9¼c, with buyers at 8½ to 8¾c, and, perhaps, 9c. The market is always very changeable at this season of the year, and this has a tendency to make operations timid; this week they may have a very good market in the east, while next week it may be just the reverse. There were but very few stock buyers in attendance, and there were but very few Cattle of this character on sale; the fact is good stockers cost as much in the west as farmers and stock growers feel like paying here. At 4½ to 5, a large number of stock cattle could be sold, but anything of a decent stock steer would have cost from 6 to 6½, and even 7c. In a few weeks more we expect to see grass cattle coming in, and then, and not till then, is it likely that stock will rule lower. The following are the sales:

W. Hedges sold 17 head of fair butchers cattle to Young, averaging 1,050 pounds, at 8.

McKee sold R. Maynes 18 head of fairish cattle at 7¾.

J. Berry sold E. Young 20 head good fat steers, weighing 20,775 lbs, at 8,40.

HOGS.

The market for Hogs, compared with last week, has undergone but little change. Prime fat Hogs were not in as good supply as last week, while the number of light averages, suitable for the New York market, was considerably larger. We quote the former at 9¾ to 10¼, and the latter at 8 to 8½. We are quoted the following sales:

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. sold 139 head for Stump to Crouse, Emerick & Co. at 8,60; 62 for Holmes & Pfeiffer to Keys at 9¾; 108 for same to Crouse, Emerick & Co. at 9¾; 112 for Doud to Singer & Imhoff at 10,30; 123 for Blue & Co. to Crouse, Emerick & Co. at 9,30; 32 for Ross to W. Hedges at 8,30.

Hedges & Taylor sold 69 for Meaks to Pidcock & Co. at 8,60; 65 for Middleworth & Frost to W. Hedges at 8,80; 146 for Goff to same at 8,40; 84 for Mathews to same at 8; 65 for Paul to Emerick & Co. at 8,10.

Crouse, Emerick & Co. bought 457 from Green at 9¼; 189 from Hasket at 10,10; 89 from Lamb at 8,50, and 158 from Harrington at 8,90.

M. Lanahan & Co. sold 272 to Keys, to go to Baltimore, at 10.

Reynolds to E. Smith 275 at 9,40. Voter to same buyer 140, averaging 162 pounds, at 8¼.

SHEEP.

With large arrivals and a diminished demand, the market for Sheep has been a remarkably hard one this week, and prices have declined from a cent to a cent and a half per pound. In the early part of the week, two or three bunches of prime fat Sheep sold at 7¼ to 7,40, while to-day the same quality of Sheep would not have brought over 6 to 6¼c. Common and inferior were still worse, the decline being still greater, though this is always the case in a dull market. There were less buyers than there were last week, and those who were here bought moresparingly.

Holmes, Lafferty & Co. sold 194 head for Doud to Pearce at 6,55; 212 for McFadden to Pidcock & Co. at 7,40; 283 for same to same at 7¼; 221 for Logan to Aull & Myers at 4,10; 46 for Ross to Deitrich at 5½.

L. Kase, averaging 82, at 4,30; 260 from Lamb, averaging 83, at 5,25.

S. Clark sold 345 head of fairish Sheep, weighing 28,580, to Maynes at 4¾.

The Robt. Moore, from Portsmouth, is the only arrival we have to report. The St. Charles was due last evening, and will return again as usual this evening at five o'clock.

The Lorena, from St. Louis, is over due; it is possible she may have been delayed by low water.

The J. N. McCullough cleared for Cincinnati yesterday with a fair trip, and the Delaware was to have left for Nashville last evening.

The Ida Rees No. 2 is now in the Brownsville packet trade, under the auspices of the "People's Line." She is a very neat and staunch craft, and we have no doubt will make the time without any difficulty.

The Argosy did not get off for Cincinnati as expected yesterday, but will leave today.

Com. W. J. Kountz, after an absence of several weeks at St. Louis, where he was engaged in loading his mountain fleet, has returned home again, and will, we presume, soon give his time and attention to the Manchester Parsenger Railway, of which he is President and Superintendent. Com. K. is one of the most untiring and energetic men in business we know of; whatever he takes hold of will go through, as with him there is no such word as fail.

The Messenger, Capt. Jesse Dean, is filling up rapidly for St. Louis, and she is announced to to take her departure today.

The St. Charles, Captain C. A. Dravo, with Andrew Robinson, Jr., in the office, is the regular packet for Cincinnati to-day, leaving at 5 p. m.

The Princess left for Buford with government freight of the Hazlett contract, and the Agnes is loading for a rise. The Luminary enters the Vicksburg trade. The Mississippi and Forsyth were bought in for the Atlantic Company. The Missouri is falling rapidly at St. Joseph, and slowly at Omaha with difficult navigation. The Lower Missouri is in a bad condition. The Upper Mississippi is steadily falling from Saint Paul. Freights advanced at Dubuque to 10c per 100.

We clip the following items from the Cincinnati Enquirer of Wednesday: The little propeller Carrie Williams, in command of Captain Louis Krutz, coming up from Louisville, bursted her supply pipe when passing Petersburg, Kentucky, yesterday morning about five o'clock. Four little children of Capt. Krutz were sleeping right forward of the boiler, and one of them a girl about twelve years of age, was severely scalded.

Capt. Marsh Clark, of the Emma Floyd, was conducted yesterday afternoon to the office of Rose & Batchelor, where were assembled a number of his personal friends and admirers, whose grave countenances betokened some serious design upon him. A huge white beaver, of the high-top persuasion, was produced, and was formally presented to him by Capt. Bennett, in his happy and peculiar style, in behalf of the friends assembled. Capt. Clark attempted to tell how much he was affected by the gift, but broke down, and invited the crowd "round the corner," but they all, strangely enough, declined (in) a horn.

Daniel Millard, a pilot, fell overboard from the steamboat Lula on the 19th inst., near Hickman, Ky., and was drowned. The drowned man was formerly a resident of Covington, Ky., where he leaves a wife and daughter to mourn his untimely end.

CITY OF PITTSBURGH WATER LOAN.

PROPOSALS FOR

OF THE

Bonds of the "Water Extension Loan,"

Will be received at the office of the CITY CONTROLLER, Fourth street.

These are COUPON BONDS, bearing interest at the rate of SEVEN PER CENT. per annum, payable semi-annually, at the office of the City Treasurer, and the Bonds are to be paid off in twenty-five years from April 1, 1868.

By Act of Assembly the Revenue of the Water Works is pledged for the payment of the Bonds and Coupons, and the latter are by law made receivable for Water Rents, and the Act authorizing the Loan creates a SINKING FUND of not less than two per cent. of all bonds which may have been issued in pursuance of said Act. The Councils are bound to appropriate annually a sufficient sum for interest, and not less than two per cent. of all bonds which may have issued to go into the Sinking Fund.

The proceeds of these Bonds can only be used for the extension and improvement of the City Water Works, which will increase the revenue, while at present it is far greater than is required to insure the payment of interest and retirement of the Bonds.

The Bonds are EXEMPT FROM STATE, COUNTY and CITY TAX, which, together with all the foregoing advantages, make the Bonds the most desirable security offered to the public.

Bids under par will not be considered.

By order of Finance Committee.

MR. G. W. K MINOR has withdrawn from the contest for the Republican nomination for Congress in the 21st district. We believe this gives MR. COVODE a clear field.

AGATE, the correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, writing from Chicago, mentions the fact, as unusual, that no liquor was dealt out at the head-quarters of the Indiana delegation. The writer hereof was in the head-quarters of a nnmber of the delegations, including those from Pennsylvania, Ohio and Connecticut, and knows that liquor was not furnished at any of them. There is much more gabble than fact about the use of liquors at important political Conventions.

THE trial of JEFFERSON DAVIS is announced to commence next Wednesday, June 3d, at Richmond. But little public interest anticipates this event, since the opinion is universal that the proceeding will be a mere formality for the purpose of obtaining, with the official sanction of the Chief Justice and of Mr. JOHNSON'S District Attorney, a clear record of acquittal for the Confederate Chief. Were there any danger of his conviction, the tactics of our Senate Chamber and its lobby would be seasonably and successfully developed to avert it.

The Commercial denies that the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company have made overtures of sale to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company. We suspect this denial is only a play upon words. Have not a deputation of gentlemen, at the instance and with the approval of the managers of the Allegheny Valley Railroad Company, been to Philadelphia either to offer terms to the Pennsylvania Railroad Company, or to ascertain what terms that Company would propose? This is purely a question of fact, from which no imputation upon any one can be inferred.

THE PRIMARY MEETINGS.

The Union Republican voters of Allegheny county are reminded that their primary meetings for the election of delegates to the Congressional and county Conventions are summoned for Saturday, the 30th. The call from the Executive Committee, which we print, specifies the hours for the assemblage of these primary meetings and the methods under which delegates will be chosen. It will be seen that the elections in the cities and boroughs, including all townships in the consolidated cities, are to be held between the hours of 3 P. M. (not 5 P. M. as heretofore erroneously printed) and 7 P. M., and that the voting will be by ballot, departing in this respect from the former usage. The townships of Oakland, Piit, Peebles, Liberty, Collins and Wilkins will vote within the same hours under the old plan of marking, and all other townships of the county will also mark, but between the hours of 3 and 6 P. M.

We urge upon every Republican voter to make it his especial business to go to the voting place and express his own individual preference in the choice of delegates. The voter who omits this duty, without an adequate excuse in his health or business, has no right whatever to complain of any result which he finds unacceptable. Let him remember that a nomination in this county is equivalent to an election and that the nominations are usually settled in the preliminary choice of delegates. It is on the coming Saturday that such Republican voters as may attend, under the call of the Executive Committee, will in effect elect the candidate of next October. Let no Republican, therefore, who desires good nominations to be made, and who has the success of his party and the welfare of his county and State sincerely at heart, neglect this duty of attending these meetings. If he dont like one candidate, let him go and do what he can to prevent his election. If he does like another candidate and desires his success, it is equally his duty to record a vote in favor of delegates who are pledged to his nomination.

We should rejoice to learn on Saturday evening that every Republican vote in the county had been polled at these meetings. We should accept it as an omen of an unexceptionable ticket, and of its certainty to receive that ten thousand majority for which our county stands pledged.

THE BRIBERY INVESTIGATION.

It is safe to assume that no man in the United States, who had watched carefully for any considerable period, the process by which lobbies manipulate legislative assemblies, and the outward indications of success in such enterprises, had any doubt, the day after the first vote was taken in the Senate upon the Articles of Impeachment, as to the nature of the influences brought to bear on the minds of several of the Republican members of that body. All the indications gave positive revelation of a corrupt bargain and sale.

See how the case stood! The Republican Senators by whose votes the President was acquitted, had previously, and with deliberation, under their official oaths, put themselves on record, to precisely the opposite effect. In the debates upon the Office-Tenure bill, and in giving their votes for its enactment into a law, they pronounced judgment upon the constitutional limitations of the President's prerogative of appointment to and removal from places of honor, trust and profit. In the debates upon the President's message assigning his reasons for the removal of Mr. STANTON from the War Department, and by their votes restoring him to that position, they decided the whole case against Mr. JOHNSON, and gave the strongest possible invitation to the House of Representatives to proceed against him by Impeachment. In these instances they acted without popular pressure, and in accordance with their matured and often declared views of the genius of our political system, and the obvious intent of the constitutional distribution of powers among the co-ordinate branches of the government. At the opening of the current session of Congress, when the House of Representatives, after listening to the reports on Impeachment submitted by different sections of the Judiciary Committee, dismissed that whole business, the country acquiesced. A feeling of relief was distinctly observable throughout all the Republican ranks. When the question of Impeachment was again taken up it was not in response to outside clamor or importunity. Upon its own motion, and in defence of its own prerogatives, the Senate proceeded to adjudge the President in the matter of the removal of Mr. STANTON, the seven recusant Senators not simply consenting, but actively co-operating. It was then, and not till then, that the House of Representatives again moved in the premises. It took the Senate, and these seven Senators in particular, at their words. What less could the House have done?

When the House was preparing Articles of Impeachment, the false Senators did not dissuade therefrom. They knew, as well as they knew anything, that Impeachment was the just and necessary corollory from the record they had helped to make in the Senate. When the trial came on, and as it progressed, they gave their political associates no sign of change in their views and purposes, but constantly gave them to understand that however they might differ from other Republicans upon the details of proceedings, they were unmoved and immovable upon the decisive points at issue. Meanwhile they established relations of the closest intimacy with the President and his defenders, listened to the seducements of lobbyists to such a degree and with such a spirit that those adventurers felt perfectly safe in filling the whole country with predictions of unqualified acquittal, and with prophecies that either a Conservative party would be speedily organized, with the Chief Justice at its head, and the betraying Senators in co-operation, or that these elements would be merged into the Democratic party, with Mr. CHASE as its nominee for President. Could a circumstantial case be made plainer? Considering these tokens in connection, no other conclusion was admissible than that the Chief Justice and the Republican Senators siding with him, were bought with a price. What that price was remained to be ascertained.

The apologists of these functionaries denied that they were actuated by sordid or pecuniary motives, but when pressed, conceded that they were controlled either by personal antipathies and hatreds or by political ambition. How this made their case any better, we failed to see. Some bad men are not mercenary. They cannot be tempted by offers of money. But their lust of power or their thirst for revenge is so inordinate they will do any thing to gratify or appease either. Other bad men have no personal loves or hates, and hold all other ambitions in strict subordination to an intense and consuming desire for money. That there is a difference in these classes is obvious. Which of the two is the worst it is useless to calculate nicely. Each is as bad and despicable as it can well be.

What all experienced men inferred from facts apparent on the surface of this case, has been effectually demonstrated by the report of the Managers of Impeachment detailing the results evolved in the course of legal investigation. That money was used to pervert the judgments of Senators, or, at least to induce them to vote against their declared convictions, is settled, beyond cavil or controversy. Precisely who furnished the money, how much there was of it, what particular Senators defiled themselves with it, at what price this one or that was rated in the detestible brokerage, and how many shared in the profits who nevertheless, and upon agreement, voted against the President, but would have voted for him if needful, has not been made known, and probably never will be.

Negotiations of this infamous sort are not made under conditions of general cognition, as stocks and fabrics are bought in open market. They are conducted in secrecy, and with all the disguises deemed essential to prevent exposure. Besides, as a rule, it may safely be affirmed that a man who will bribe or be bribed, will protest or swear falsely to escape detection and disgrace or punishment. Hence, we account the disclaimers of the delinquent Senators as utterly worthless, and put a high estimate upon the fragmentary and incomplete testimony that has been squeezed out of reluctant witnesses. This testimony compels the conviction that if the whole truth could be brought out, not a few men, heretofore rated eminent in character as in position, would be consigned to the penitentiary.

It is, indeed, possible that one or more of the Senators who have thus fallen into disgrace did not yield to the greed of money. Who can tell which they are? Each one of them deliberately placed himself in such relations as to draw suspicions upon himself. They did this, presuming upon their reputations to shield them from ultimate condemnation. They discourse in stately terms about their oaths, and consciences, and sense of personal honor. Where were their oaths, and consciences, and honors, when they voted for the Office-Tenure act? when they solemnly adjudged that the reasons given by the President for turning Mr. STANTON out of the War Office were insufficient? when, by their votes, they put Mr. STANTON back into the place out of which the President thrust him?

To be frank, we may as well confess that we have little or no confidence in sleek, comfortable and dignified men, who make parade of social standing, of conscience, of morality, of piety. They are no better than pretty and volatile women who ceaselessly chatter about their immaculate chastity. Bluff, rugged men, making no pretences, careless of exterior appearances—in short, such men as WADE and STEVENS—intriguers never approach and the public never suspect. Neither the intriguers nor the public are mistaken. Such men are not approached because they are unapproachable.

At the late Chicago National Convention hopes of nominating a certain person to the Vice Presidency were predicated on the weaknesses or the necessities of the "carpet-bag" delegates from the Southern States. The effort to buy them was boldly made, and utterly failed. Poor and without public reputation, but earnest and resolute men, they put the eager traffickers to open shame. If the places held by these "carpet-baggers" had been held by the seven recreant Senators and their like, the proposed bargain would have been struck, the money paid, and the votes recorded according to agreement. Whitefield, in bold and startling imaginary, depicted the aristocratic and the dangerous classes of society meeting at the mouth of hell and plunging in together. Through the disguises of education and fashion—the differences of form and seeming—he accurately traced that identity of moral character which brought them together when the fictions and hypocrisies of the earthly dissolved and disappeared under the pitiless alchemy of the eternal.

WE CONCEDE—nay, we affirm as stoutly as anybody—that it would be a good thing for the business men of this city and neighborhood, if the trunk railways were compelled to carry freights at uniform rates per ton per mile. The question is, how to compel them? If "blowing" could do that job the Commercial has expended wind upon it sufficient to accomplish the result half a dozen times. But the consummation is as far off as ever. Hence we conclude that "wind" is not adapted to that end.

It would be a good thing for many people, if merchants and manufacturers in this city were compelled to sell their goods to all comers, and at all times, at uniform rates. But there is no law commanding them to do so, and there will be none.

Pennsylvania can pass a pro rata law, and make it binding on all railway companies within its borders—though we don't believe it will. But such a law would not apply to roads running through Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. Nor will those States co-operate with Pennsylvania in establishing a pro rata tariff from the Delaware to the Mississippi and the Missouri, and beyond; for the plain reason that such a measure would increase railway charges upon their people. Is it a crime to utter common sense on this point?

Competing lines through Pittsburgh would tend to equalize charges; but two parallel lines would cease to be competing, by entering into combination, whenever they found cutting each others throats unpleasant, and whenever the condition of transportation over the water-ways allowed.

This is one of the most practical matters in the world, and cannot be settled by interminable deluges of swash.

IMPEACHED Senators are eloquent in repelling the imputation that they had dined with the Chief Justice. Have they no indignant protestations to offer against more serious accusations?

MESSRS. EDITORS:—In reply to a communication addressed to the Hon. Thomas Williams, to ascertain whether he would be a candidate for re-nomination, with that modesty which is inseparably united with real merit and true worth, he has told the people that, while he does not desire to press his claims upon them, he will, should they wish it, serve them again.

The majority of the people of the district do desire to be again served by Mr. Williams. His reelection will be no experiment. From his past record we know what to expect of him in the future. The interests of the district, of the party, of the country, cannot be placed in more able or more honest hands. Throughout his Congressional career, at every step, in all exigencies, he has served us with steady, unshrinking fidelity.

In the National Congress, he reflects credit upon his district, being, as he is, in intellectual culture, native power of mind and moral character, the peer to the most elevated of his associates.

He is now in the prime of his life, with all his powers in their full vigor, added to which he will bring to the position all the benefits resulting from the experience which he has had as a legislator.

Why should we desire to change an efficient public servant who has served us well and faithfully? Let us stand by a good man, whom we know, nor set him aside for another who certainly cannot serve us any better, and may serve us not as well.

Yours, ALLEGHENY.

—Several members of Congress endeavored to persuade Mr. Stanton not to vacate the War Office, but he maintained it was the proper course for him to take.

A GOOD TIME COMING.

When a veteran politician like Mr. THURLOW WEED, whose long and ripe experience in public affairs guarantees his thorough understanding of what he is about, finds it expedient to present specific and responsible charges of corruption against a Senator by name, the public may be assured that business is seriously meant. The card of that gentleman, printed over his own name in his own journal, the New York Commercial Advertiser, of Wednesday, arraigns Senator POMEROY upon an accusation so precise, and including by name so many of the Senators in its complications, that an investigation is sure to follow. The country will insist upon it and the Senate cannot avoid it, however unpleasant its revelations are likely to prove.

Mr. WEED has delivered his fire with great skill and direction, at the critical moment. Simultaneously with the adoption by the Senate of a resolution appointing a committee of investigation, his card appeared at New York. He understood the situation and how to make it effective.

If the Senate, in ordering that Committee, proposed to itself a neat little white washing operation for its suspected members, which there is great reason for supposing to have been its intention, it may as well be understood at once that this part of the arrangement will fail. It was entirely practicable to smother the matter, so long as the current charges of corruption were based upon irresponsible rumors and sensational newspaper reports. The Committee would have had little difficulty in making a parade of its virtuous intentions, going through the forms of an enquiry in such quarters as would be safe to disappoint the public expectations, and carefully avoiding the dangerous exposure of facts from reliable witnesses. In due time, a report would have been made that the charges of venality and corruption were unsustained, and the Senators clearly proved to be all honorable men. This was possible, so long as the Committee were sure of finding only a timid handful of timid press reporters to deal with, or the sharpers of the whisky ring to collude with them in the suppression of the truth. For this we have no doubt to have been the purpose of Senators in instituting its "Committee of Investigation." Mr. WEED watches for his moment and, in the very hour when the telegraph has advised him that a Committee has been ordered, his card, specifically charging Senators by name, goes into print. The Senate has committed itself. The little job of white washing which it had proposed, has become a very different affair, and what was intended as a deception upon the public, a decorous cloak for the perpetual concealment of the corruptions of the Capitol, is converted into a formal investigation of specific charges from a responsible source. It is not the entertainment to which Senators invited themselves, but they are in for it, and the prosecuting witness is one who knows how to make it a very serious affair.

We have not always admired Mr. WEED'S tactics, nor have we usually, of late years, accepted his political policy. But we recognize him as a man of marked ability, of large and most varied political experience, and, whether as journalist or politician, having access to the most hidden sources of information and familiar with the inner history of public men and measures. We presume that such a man has made such a charge upon no slight grounds, and that he is entirely competent to maintain his part as prosecutor in the enquiry which he has challenged. He has a right to know that in this matter he shall be encouraged and sustained by the approbation of every honest man. The corruptions of Washington have become so flagrant as to shock the moral sense of the people. The country demands their exposure and punishment. We care not who is to be disgraced by the exposure. Whatever Senator may have sold his vote, or for whatever price, whether his name be one of the seven already conspicuously infamous, or was to have been given to that treachery if needed, the country has a right to know, and we are grateful for the belief that this knowledge is not far off.

THE personal explanation made by the Kansas Senator, Ross, on Wednesday, establishes amply the justice of the popular suspicions against his integrity. It is a muddy, incoherent attempt to avert the universal odium, by vague professions and empty generalities, in the midst of which may be discerned the acknowledgement that he had intended to support the eleventh article, but changed his purpose two days before the vote was given, and he assigns "an intended wrong to be perpetrated," as the motive for that change. Here was a point upon which the Senator would have done well to be more specific. What was that "wrong" to which he mysteriously alludes? It is reported at Washington that he privately assures his acquaintances that he changed his vote "to break up a ring organized for the defeat of General GRANT." That explanation is too absurd for any degree of credulity to accept. The probabilities are far more favorable to the other and more damaging allegations which connect him with a "ring" of claimants before Congress and the War Office, in whose way Mr. STANTON was an insuperable obstacle. His "explanation" confesses a change of front at the last moment, because that change was so well known that it was useless for him to attempt a denial. Now, let us have some more reliable explanation of its real cause.

A TEST CASE under the new registration-law of the Commonwealth has been made up at Philadelphia, and is probably to be under argument before the Supreme Court to-day. A comprehensive decision, upon the legal points at issue touching this important legislation, will be especially desirable. Whether the law is to be sustained, with the submissive accord of all good citizens, or to be rejected from the coming canvass, is a question of much consequence to the people of Pennsylvania, and we regard this proceeding for its timely decision as a matter for general congratulation.

THE CAMPAIGN.

Address From the State Central Committee—An Appeal to All Good Citizens.

PHILADELPHIA, May 27, 1868.

To the Voters of Pennsylvania:

The National Convention of the Republican party, with a unanimity and enthusiasm unprecedented, has nominated candidates for President and Vice President and announced the principles upon which they appeal to the people for support. As to the individuals selected no word of commendation is necessary. Their deeds form a part of the history of the country.

No matter who the candidates in opposition may be, they must represent an organization that was unfaithful to the country in the hour of its direst peril and false to liberty and the rights of man.

For four years the Republic shook with the tread of armed men in a struggle to determine whether the will of the majority constitutionally expressed should be the law of the land till changed in the mode prescribed by the organized law. In that struggle three thousand millions of treasure were wasted—three hundred thousand hero-martyrs found in our ransomed soil their graves, and sorrow sits to-day at almost every fireside, mourning the unreturning brave.

This waste of treasure and legacy of woe was caused by the minority, in a fair election, refusing to submit to the will of the majority constitutionally expressed. Suspended on the issue hung the life of the republic and the hopes of mankind.

The only political organization to give aid, sympathy, and encouragement to that minority in its attempt to dismember the Republic and thus destroy our liberties, was the party calling itself Democratic. At its last National Convention, while half a million of men were in arms for the overthrow of the Government, it declared the war for the Union a failure, and demanded an immediate cessation of hostilities.

"We were asked to spike our guns when the foe was at bay,
And the rags of his black banner were dropping away,
To take down the proud name our nation had won,
And strike her brave bird from his home in the sun."

Had the policy of the Democratic party been successful, the genius of impartial history would have written on the tombstone of the present generation an epitaph of indelible, unfading and endless disgrace—that it preferred the Republic should die rather than endure the sacrifices necessary for it to live.

The men and the party that saved the Government in war can preserve and protect it in peace. The great captain of the age will lead the loyal hosts of the Republic to victory in November next, as he led its armies at Donelson, Vicksburg, and Appomattox Court House.

Republicans of the Keystone State, efficient organization secures certain victory. Your party in its infancy saved the territories of the Union from the blight and curse of human bondage, and consecrated them forever to free homes and free men. In its early manhood it has grappled and crushed the most gigantic conspiracy ever formed for the destruction of liberty and free government. Treachery of public servants or apostasy of trusted leaders cannot stay its onward march.

With truth and justice for weapons, and and the hearts of the people for a bulwark, if true to yourselves, a certain victory awaits you.

"The price of liberty is eternal vigilance."

GALUSHA A. GROW,
Chairman State Cen. Rep. Com.

THERE are sixteen counties in the State of Pennsylvania which are without debt, viz: Bedford, Blair, Bradford, Cambria, Clarion, Clinton, Elk, Fulton, Greene, Juniata, Indiana, Luzerne, Montour, Pike, Somerset, Union, Venango, Westmoreland. Cambria county has the least debt, $2,000. Philadelphia owes, $35,696,661 54; which is just $74,609 more than the State owes, its debt being $35,622,052. The other counties whose debts exceed a million of dollars are Allegheny, $2,300,441 48; Berks, $1,800,000.

NATURE IS THE GREAT PHYSICIAN.

This is now admitted, by the medical profession, as a fundamental principle of healing science. It is wisely provided by the human economy that whenever anything is wrong in the physical system the natural forces of the body are brought to bear to expel the disease. The great aim, therefore, is to strengthen the natural powers. This has been kept in view by the skillful compounders of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, which operates to give fresh vitality to all the organs of the body. The effect of this medicine upon the stomach, the liver and the kidneys, is prompt and decisive. The patient, who is wise enough to quit drugging and try the BITTERS, soon feels as if he had taken a new lease of life, and as he continues the use of the article, he is overjoyed to find the streams of health coursing through his frame. It is prepared with great care, and its component parts are entirely vegetable. It is free from the objections so often urged against preparations of the kind. As a medical agent it has no equal, while its pleasing flavor and healthful effects have made it a general favorite. It is free from all properties calculated to impair the system, and its operations are at once mild, soothing and efficient. All who have used HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS attest its virtues and commend it to use. Even those who are in enjoyment of perfect health frequently have need to have recourse to tonics as preventives of disease. We are never too well armed against the assaults of "the ills that flesh is heir to." In health or sickness this tonic cannot be taken regularly without giving vitality and elasticity to the system.

ANOTHER CURE OF DEAFNESS.

I lost my hearing during the last year. Part of the time I was totally deaf. In April of this year I was induced, from an advertisement, to make application to DR. KEYSER, 120 Penn street, Pittsburgh. After having tried various medicines from doctors, without any benefit, I have been under Dr. Keyser's treatment now for nearly two months, and am entirely restored to my hearing, so that I can hear a pin drop. JOHN SCANLAN,
Coal Bluffs, Washington Co., Pa.

ANOTHER CURE.

A man called to-day at Dr. Keyser's office to inform him of a great cure made by his LUNG CURE, or PULMONARY RESTORATIVE. Ilst these cures are made with the Doctor's preparations, he desires it to be distinctly understood that most of his great cures are made in accordance with the established laws that govern the science of medicine, in which he has been engaged for the past twenty-five years. Last week he was also in receipt of a letter from a clergyman in the State of Ohio, detailing another most wonderful cure.

DR. KEYSER'S RESIDENT CONSULTING OFFICE FOR LUNG EXAMINATIONS AND TREATMENT OF CHRONIC DISEASES, No. 120 PENN STREET, FROM 9 A. M. UNTIL 3 P. M.

AN innocent chap inquired of a knot of politicians who were discussing impeachment, on Saturday, why the Senate voted first on the eleventh article? "On Scriptural grounds," replied one, "in order that the last should be first, and the first last." "Not so," said another; "it was because they thought the eleventh article the strongest, and hoped the little 'leven would leaven the whole lump." The inquiring mind was satisfied.—Boston Commercial Advertiser.

Is the best Rake made. It will rake heavier hay, carry it farther, load and unload itself easier than any other rake. It is self-operating; a child 8 years old can do the work of a full hand. Hundreds of certificates could be given, one of which is below:

"GIRARD, Erie Co., Pa., July 5, 1867.
"I have used the Welcome Hay Rake, manufactured by W. W. Wallace, Pittsburgh, Pa., and recommend it to farmers. It is good in light and heavy hay; is easy on man and horse; is a complete gleaner of grain and stubble; is simple in construction and easily kept in order. JOSEPH ARBUCKLE."

All orders directed to 319 Liberty street, Pittsburgh, Pa., or at the works in Columbiana, Ohio, promptly attended to. Sold wholesale and retail by
W. W. WALLACE.
Send orders in early, as supply is short.

600 MILES

OF THE

UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD

Are now finished and in operation. Sixty miles of track have been laid this spring, and the work along the whole line between the Atlantic and Pacific States is being pushed forward more rapidly than ever before. More than twenty thousand men are employed, and it is not impossible that the entire track, from Omaha to Sacramento, will be finished in 1869 instead of 1870. The means provided are ample, and all that energy, men and money can do to secure the completion of this

GREAT NATIONAL WORK,

At the earliest possible day, will be done.

The UNION PACIFIC RAILROAD COMPANY receive:

I.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right of way, and all necessary timber and other materials found along the line of its operations.

II.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of 12,800 acres of land to the mile, taken in alternate sections on each side of its road. This is on absolute donation, and will be a source of large revenue in the future.

III.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of United States Thirty-year Bonds, amounting to from $16,000 to $48,000 per mile, according to the difficulties to be surmounted on the various sections to be built. The Government takes a second mortgage as security, and it is expected that not only the interest, but the principal amount may be paid in services rendered by the Company in transporting troops, mails, &c. The interest is now much more than paid in this way, besides securing a great saving in time and money to the Government.

IV.—A GOVERNMENT GRANT of the right to issue its own FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, to aid in building the road, to the same amount as the U. S. Bonds, issued for the same purpose, and no more. The Government permits the Trustees for the First Mortgage Bondholders to deliver the Bonds to the Company only as the road is completed, and after it has been examined by United States Commissioners and pronounced to be in all respects a first-class Railroad, laid with a heavy T rail, and completely supplied with depots, stations, turnouts, carshops, locomotives, cars, &c.

V.—A CAPITAL STOCK SUBSCRIPTION from the stockholders, of which OVER EIGHT MILLION DOLLARS have been paid in upon the work already done, and which will be increased as the wants of the Company require.

VI.—NET CASH EARNINGS on its Way Business, that already amount to MORE THAN THE INTEREST on the First Mortgage Bonds. These earnings are no indication of the vast through business that must follow the opening of the line to the Pacific, but they certainly prove that upon such a property, costing nearly three times their amount, ARE SECURE BEYOND ANY CONTINGENCY.

FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS

The Company have abundant means in their treasury, and make no appeal to the public to purchase their Bonds, as the daily subscriptions are entirely satisfactory; but they submit that, for entire security and liberal returns, there is certainly no better investment in the market.

The Union Pacific Bonds are for $1,000 each, and have coupons attached. They have thirty years to run, and bear annual interest, payable on the first days of January and July, at the Company's Office in the City of New York, at the rate of six per cent. in gold. The Principal is payable in gold at maturity. At the present rate of gold, these bonds pay an annual income on their cost of

NEARLY NINE PER CENT.,

AND IT IS BELIEVED THAT THEY WILL SOON BE AT A PREMIUM.

The Company reserve the right to advance the price of their bonds to a rate above par at any time, and will not fill any orders or receive any subscriptions on which the money has not been actually paid at the Company's office before the time of such advance.

Parties subscribing will remit the par value of the bonds and the accrued interest in currency at the rate of six per cent. per annum, from the date on which the last coupon was paid. Subscriptions will be received in Pittsburgh by

JAMES T. BRADY & Co., corner of Wood and Fourth Streets;
HART, CAUGHEY & Co., corner of Wood and Third Streets;
S. McCLEAN & CO., 75 Fourth Street;
PH. R. MERTZ, corner 5th and Wood Sts.;
ROBINSON BROS., 78 Fourth street;

AND IN NEW YORK

At the Company's Office, No. 20 Nassau Street, and by JOHN J. CISCO & SON, Bankers, No. 59 Wall Street, and by the Company's advertised agents throughout the United States.

Remittances should be made in drafts or other funds par in New York, and the Bonds will be sent free of charge by return express. Parties subscribing through local agents, will look to them for their safe delivery.

A PAMPHLET AND MAP FOR 1868 has just been published by the Company, giving fuller information than is possible in an advertisement, respecting the Progress of the Work, the Resources of the Country traversed by the Road, the Means for Construction, and the Value of the Bonds, which will be sent free on application at the Company's offices, or to any of the advertised agents.

A RIVER BOTTOM FARM OF 76 ACRES, 19 miles from the city, in Elizabeth township, Allegheny county, Pa., on the Youghiogheny river, one-half mile from Elrod's station, on the Connellsville railroad; near churches, schools, stores, &c., in the flourishing villages of Boston and Green Oak. The improvements are a two-story brick house of six rooms, hall and cellar, a good frame bank barn with stabling underneath, and other outbuildings; a well of good standing water at the door, and several standing springs of water on the farm, and an orchard of 700 trees of selected fruits of apples, cherries, pears, peaches, quinces and grapes. This property being located near the line of the railroad, within one hour's ride of the city, makes it very desirable for gardening or a dairy farm; it is also a good and beautiful location for country homes near the city, lying immediately on the river, on the opposite side from the railroad. The West Newton Accomodation and other trains on the railroad afford certain and frequent opportunities of daily communication to and from the city. Will be sold as a whole or in lots of one acre or more, to suit purchasers.

Also, A FARM OF 173 ACRES, situated in St. Clair township, Westmoreland county, Pa., near the line of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Houston Station. The improvements are a two-story frame house, with six rooms and good cellar, a frame bank barn 40 by 60 feet, and other outbuildings. There is on the place a young apple and peach orchard; 130 acres cleared land, divided into fields of convenient size, a large portion of which are well set in clover and timothy; the residue of said tract covered with good timber. It is well watered and underlaid with coal and limestone, and is convenient to churches, schools, stores, mills and blacksmith shops. A real good bargain is offered in this excellent farm; and with it will be sold all the personal property on the premises, consisting of horses, cows, stock cattle, hogs and poultry, harness, gears, wagon, plows, farming implements and household and kitchen furniture. Together will be sold very low and on easy terms, to a responsible purchaser.

Also, a desirable and very fertile Tract of Land of 156 ACRES AND 25 PERCHES, in Elizabeth Tp., Allegheny county, Pa., on the line of the Hempfield railroad, and one and one-half miles from the Connellsville railroad at Suter's Station. On this farm are 40 acres of superior white oak timber, which alone is now worth one-half the price asked for the whole tract. The improvements are a log house, frame barn, good fencing, and an apple orchard of good fruit. It is well watered and underlaid with limestone and flag stone of a superior quality, with stone coal for the use of the farm.

Also, The best FARM in Fairfield township, Westmoreland county, Pa., of 250 ACRES, about six miles south of the Pennsylvania Central Railroad at Bolivar Station. The improvements are two large hewed log dwellings; one of the largest and best frame barns in the township; two apple orchards, in good bearing condition; corn crib, wagonshed and other outbuildings. FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 28, 1868.

Gold was less active to-day, fluctuating between 139⅛ and 137⅞. The weakness of the market seems to be due to a rise in government bonds in the European markets, which caused shipments of bonds to be made instead of gold.

Government bonds were in the morning dull and ¼ to ⅛ per cent. off from last night,s quotations, but towards noon a fresh demand set in, and prices were carried higher than any yet reached during the greenback reign. Seven Thirties have touched 109½, but fell off at the close. These, with the Five Twenties of 1865 and 1867, are now the cheapest securities on the market, when compared with bonds of 1865, old. The offers to sell at present high quotations are increasing, and it has altogether the appearance as if the highest point was reached, at least, for the present. The rise in bonds was so steady but rapid that speculators are tempted to realize. The facility of borrowing money on these securities, and the cheapness of money itself, has brought out the full force of the Wall street speculative element, and all seem to have combined to carry bonds up beyond precedent. It will soon turn out that those who buy for investment will turn themselves by force of circumstances. It is evident that capitalists will not retain an article when a handsome profit can be made by sale, and re-bought at lower rates.

In stocks little can be said of the market, but a further rise in Fort Wayne, New York Central and Erie; the balance of the ist remained unchanged, with a decline in Express and miscellaneous stocks. Mining shares are firm and higher, and there is a probability that a lively time may set in these stocks, which is always the case during the summer season, when the large operators are away.

Money is easier here, with but little demand for legitimate business; long paper and second grade will not pass at even a high discount.

Closing quotations as received by Ph. R. Mertz, were as follows:

Gold, 139⅛; 1881 bonds, 115⅞; 1862 5-20s, 111⅞; 1864 do, 109¼; 1865 do, 109¾; Consols, 111½; 10-40s, 105½; 7-30s, 109¼.

Railroads—Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 88⅝; Fort Wayne, 114¾; North Western, common 69½; North Western—preferred, 80¼; New York Central, 132⅝; Erie, 71½; Old Southern, 88; Ohio & Mississippi, 31¼; Merchants Union Express, 28⅜; Western Union Telegraph, 38¾. Mining Shares—Corydon, 26; Quartz Hill, 100; Quicksilver, 30⅜.

—On and after June 1, the Treasury Department will be prepared to receive Seven Thirty Treasury notes falling due June 15 and July 15, 1868, for conversion into bonds, dated either July 1, 1867, or July 1, 1868, as parties may desire. The terms of converson will be as follows: The interest on both series of notes will be allowed up to July 1, and the bonds issued in exchange will bear interest from that date.

—The State Bank of Missouri has bought $1,500,000 St. Louis city bonds, payable twenty years after date, at six per cent., for eighty cents. These bonds are issued under recently granted authority—$1,000,000 to pay current expenses, and $500,000 to build sewers.

—The Boeton Advertiser thus refers to an American banking firm in London:

The news of the failure of Messrs. Belding, Keith & Co., American bankers in London, which has been vaguely reported for some daya, was received in this city by a dispatch to Messrs. Page, Richardson & Co. Mr. Keith was in this city at the time, and on receiving the news immediately started for London. It is understood that Mr. Belding has disappeared, taking with him all the available funds of the house. The probable extent of the failure is not ascertained.

—Says the Philadelphia Ledger, of Wednesday: We have no change to report in the money market, which is easy at 5 to 6 per cent. Demand loans on satisfactory collateral are as low as 5 per cent., but the banks do nothing less than 6 per cent., but discount all the good paper offered them at this rate. Outside paper ranges at all rates from ¾ to 2 per cent. per month discount.

—The Chicago Tribune, of Wednesday, says: Three principal causes have also combined to put up the value of government securities; first, abundance of idle capital; second, a distrust of all commercial and other financial investments; and, lastly, the unequivocal stand taken by the Republican party in the adoption of a platform which is a pledge to the world by the party in power that the public debt shall be paid in good faith; that all forms of repudiation are criminal, and that the interpretation of the contracts between the government and its creditors shall not be construed by any sophistry to defraud the creditors of their equitable rights. This being the declaration of the party in its platform adopted at the late convention, the present improved condition of the national credit is to some extent due to the Republican party.

—Closing quotations received by James T. Brady & Co.:

Gold, 139¾; U. S. 6's, 1881's, 115⅝; 5-20's, 1862, 111⅜; 5-20's, 1864, 109¼; 5-20's, 1865, 109⅝; 10-40's, 105½; 5-20's, January and July, '65, 111½; 5-20's, January and July, '67, 111⅜; June 7-30's, 109; July 7-30's, 109; May Comp., 1865, 119,-40.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 28, 1868.

The general markets are devoid of any new features worthy of special notice; there is no improvement to note in the demand, and while the operations are mainly of an unimportant character, there is, nevertheless, a fair volume of business in the aggregate. In values, there are no important changes.

GRAIN—Winter Wheat, notwithstanding the offering and supply is light, is dull and prices are drooping; we have a sale of prime Red reported to-day at $2,52. Oats dull but firm and scarce; we continue to quote at 83 to 75c. Corn is dull but unchanged at $1,05 to $1,10—the latter figure for prime Yellow. Rye cannot be quoted above $1,95 to $2. No Barley in market.

HAY—Baled Hay is in fair demand, and we can report sales on wharf at $20 to $25, as to quality.

BUTTER—Continues very dull, with a supply largely in excess of the demand; sales of good to strictly prime Roll at 20 to 21c.

EGGS—Steady at 22c.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull and weak but unchanged; sales at 6½c to 7½c for Apples, and 12 to 14c for Peaches.

POTATOES—The market is very dull under the influence of increased receipts, and prices are weak and drooping. We now quote at $1,35 for Prince Albert's, and prime Peach Blows at $1,40 to $1,45.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is quiet and prices are unchanged. We continue to quote at 14 to 14½c for Shoulders; 16 to 18c for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 19½ to 20c for Plain and Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 19¼ to 19½c. Mess Pork, $29.

FISH—Lake Herring are very scarce and higher; we now quote at $4,75 to 85 per half bbl. White Fish firm at $8,50. Baltimore Herring, $10 to $10,50; Baltimore Shad, $15,50 per bbl. and $8,50 in halves.

MILL FEED—Is quiet and unchanged; Bran, $1,60 to $1,65, and Middling, $2,15 to $2,20.

LARD OIL—Is unchanged at $1,25 for No. 2, and $1,50 for No. 1.

FLOUR—Continues dull but not quotably lower; we quote at $11,00 to $11,50 for Spring Wheat; $12 to $12,50 for Winter Wheat; and $14 to $16 for fancy brands. Sales of "City Mills of Springfield" at $11,50; "Mad River," $12,50; "White Star," $11,50; "Monticello," $11,50; "Clark & Sears," $11,25, and "Beaver Dam" at $11. Rye Flour is quoted firm at $10,50.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 28, 1868.

CRUDE—The market for Crude presents no new features worthy of special notice. There is some little inquiry both for spot and June delivery, and while the offerings are rather light, prices are pretty well sustained. We can report 2,000 bbls for June, seller's option, at 10½c, and 2,000 to be delivered between now and December 1st, seller's option, at 10c. Spot oil may be quoted at 10 to 10½c, and but little offering. Oil City telegrams report the market dull and drooping; $3,70 to $3,75 are given as the nominal quotations.

REFINED—The market for bonded oil is quiet and unchanged. Sale of 1000 bbls for first half of June at 28½c; and 500 bbls for last half. at 28½c. Spot oil is quoted at 28c; July at 28½ to 29c, and August at 29½ to 29¾c. The failure of a prominent eastern operator is reported, and this, as always is the case, has a tendency to depress and weaken the trade, both here and there. Upon inquiry we ascertained that this rumor has no other foundation than the entering up of two judgment notes, given as security for loans, and that these circumstances do not amount to more than a third of the value of the real estate.

ARRIVALS—But a single arrival reported to-day, 2480 bbls for John B. Bell.

What the Girls Think About Impeachment.

A Jenkins who has been around hearing what the people say about the acquittal of the President, gets off the following:

"The writer stepped into Niblo's, and there, under the glare of gas-jets and the frenzy of the ballet upon us, as the little fresh-faced and beautifully boddiced Schlæger threw her body into spasmodic poses, we heard the oft-told tale of Impeachment from the lips of two young and fashionable girls.

"Hattie,' said one with a pellucid blue eye and pearly teeth which she uncovered now and then, in the pauses of the ballet, 'what is this horrid thing that the President has done, and what are they going to do with him, love?"

"'I'm sure I don't know, Josie,' said her companion, a brunette, whose lips were cut like a coral reef, and whose eyes danced like diamonds in their socktes. 'Some say, dear, that it was all about a new dress that a lady friend of Mr. Johnson's had worn at a reception; that it was so nice that all the Senators' wives felt bad that they were outshone, and that was the first quarrel, and ever since they had been trying to impeach Mr. Johnson, who is a good man, I think, and wears nice Congress gaiters and gloves, for Bessie Baker told me so, and she ought to know, because her father is a banker at Washington, and Mr. Johnson goes out riding with him sometimes. There'

"Well, I'm glad it's over," said Hattie to her friend. 'Don't you think, Josie, that Schlæger dances nicely, and don't she wear nice clothes, and those flesh colored things that they call tights? They look so well on her. Don't you think so?

With the exception that Josie declared that De Rosa "wasn't good-looking at all," we heard nothing more about impeachment at Niblo's. As the writer went out of the door, a stout-built, red-faced man asked us:

"Did you hear the news? Johnsonskwitted. Heh, ole sport? Somebodysick, and 'tain't me. Let's take a drink."

Romantic Suicide at London Bridge.

On Friday morning, a respectable young woman, the daughter of a city tradesman, committed suicide by throwing herself into the Thames, at London bridge, in consequence of a quarrel with her sweetheart, who was nearly drowned while endeavoring to rescue her from the water. It appears that the girl was named Eliza Parker, and that she was only seventeen years of age. She resided with her parents at 30 Milton street, Forestreet, and for some time has kept company with a young man, Albert Smith, who is employed at Messrs. Bousfield's outfitting warehouse. On Thursday evening they both went to some place of amusement, and on returning home they had a violent quarrel. Miss Parker said she would not live any longer, and that she would throw herself into the river. She ran away from the young man, and rushed down the London bridge steps towards the water. Smith ran after her, and succeeded in catching hold of her shawl, but she threw it off quickly and plunged into the river. Smith dashed in after her, but failed to reach her, and he was with difficulty rescued himself. The deceased was carried off down the stream by the tide. The young man who made such a vigorous effort to save her life was quite overwhelmed with grief at her death, and expressed his great regret that he had not perished along with her. An inquest was held on Saturday, when a verdict of "temporory insanity" was returned.

Female Reporters.

The Anniversary Meetings at New York last week brought up some extraordinary things, and among the most remarkable were three female reporters. The Woman's Rights Convention was attended by three ladies, the reportorial representatives of Wo-Man's Rights newspapers for different parts of the country. Two of the three were strong-minded bloomers, and the other had discarded hoops and "sich," and appeared in a meek, retiring dress. The Sun reporter gives the following spicy description of the force at work:

"Miss Ada Fessenden Craig, of Chicago, was garbed in tight fitting black silk pants, green silk double breasted vest, and grey paletot, which reached a little lower than her hips. When she got warm at her work she opened her paletot, crossed her legs—placing the right foot on the left knee, and upon the elevated limb she placed her paper and plied her calling with the utmost nonchalance. The other was dressed in orange colored silk—silk Knickerbocker pants, loose vest, and flowing tunic tightened around the waist. The Knickerbocker pants are finished by elastics, the remainder of the leg (a very brawn by the way) encased in thin flesh colored silk stockings. The third reporter belongs to the Revolution, dresses in black, without hoops, immense Panama hat, disheveled hair, green stockings and prunella gaiters. She's said to be a brick of a local."

A New Electric Clock.

A novelty in the electric clocks has just been invented in France, by M. L. De Combettes. It consists of a long pendulum, on the lower portion of which is fixed the clock face. The weight is a sort of box, containing an electro-magnet and armature, which, on being attracted, disturbs the equilibrium of the pendulum, and consequently gives it motion. The movement of the armature is made to transmit motion to the hands of the clock in a manner somewhat similar to the mechanism of the alphabet dial telegraph instrument. In order to make and break the electric circuit, the movement of the pendulum is made use of, one pole of the battery being connected permanently through the axis of suspension to one end of the electro-magnet, while the other pole is connected to a metal plate, against which a point of the pendulum, in connection with the electro-magnet, makes contact at every beat, thus completing the circuit, and causing the electro-magnet to attract the armature. It is stated that only a weak battery is required, and that two Daniell's cells will keep it working for several months.—The American Artizan, New York.

An unfortunate American, exiled in London, thus vents his spleen upon the culinary art of the mother country: "As for the quality of the dinners, I can only speak of one—the Royal Literary Fund—and that was atrocious. It was given, too, at what is considered one of the best taverns in England, the Free Masons', and mighty bad is the best. The provisions were abominably bad, and abominably cooked. The wines were absolutely poisonous. I never saw a worse dinner in any part of the world. We, in this country, eat large masses of half raw flesh, and that is the cause of so many of us being fat, puffy, and dull-witted. In private houses the dinners set before one are usually detestable. A coarse soup, a bit of fish, probably nearly raw, a nasty entree, a slice of mutton badly dressed, a tough bird and an indigestible pudding, washed down by a brandied champagne, or red ink disguised as claret—such is the ordinary London dinner."

Anecdote of President Finney.

A writer in the Independent narrates some anecdotes of President Finney, the revivalist, who was President of Oberlin College until within a few years. I will add one to the collection which have never been published. The President has a very blunt way of speaking. While riding in a stage coach upon a certain occasion he fell into conversation with a gay, thoughtless young lady, who was not much inclined to weigh his religious suggestions. Upon the following day he met her on the sidewalk and exclaimed: "Good morning, thou child of the Devil." She at once responded: "Good morning, father." There is another story which has been printed. While walking along the tow-path at Syracuse, New York, many years ago, President Finney overheard a boatman discharging a volley of oaths. Stepping and turning he said to him: "Stranger, do you know where you are going?" "Where?" asked the latter. "You are going to hell," responded the former; whereupon the boatman asked the President where he was going. He said, "Up to the village." "No, you are not," replied the boatman; "You are going into the canal," and suiting the action to the word, he straightway threw the young revivalist into the turbid muddy water.

A Relic from Vicksburg.

The nomination of Gen. Grant for President reminded one of his old soldiers, yesterday, of a relic of the old Vicksburg campaign which he brought to this office. It is a copy of the last edition of the Vicksburg Daily Citizen, run off before the fall of that stronghold. The following is one of its items:

"On Dit.—That the great Ulysses—the Yankee Generalissimo, surnamed Grant—has expressed his intention of dining in Vicksburg on Saturday next, and celebrating the Fourth of July by a grand dinner, and so forth. When asked if he would invite Gen. Jo. Johnston to join, he said, 'No! for fear there will be a row at the table.' Ulysses must get into the city before he dines in it. The way to cook a rabbit is 'first catch the rabbit,' &c."

This sheet bears the date of July 3, 1863, and on the fourth Grant did dine in Vicksburg. This sheet is about one and a half feet in width by two feet in length, and is printed on the blank side of wall paper. In its musty columns we find the following significant announcement: "Old Grimes is dead.—Ohio State Journal.

An Annapolis letter says: The examination of cadets for admission into the Naval Academy will commence on the 20th of June ensuing, and will probably continue for some ten days.

The United States ships Savannah and Macedonian will compose the fleet for the summer cruise of the graduates, who are expected to leave the Academy about the 8th of the ensuing month for their destination. It is said the expedition, after traversing our coast, will visit some of our large ports, and also pay a visit to West Point, and will return about the last of September.

The Naval Academy ground present quite a handsome and picturesque appearance, and from the manner in which it is arranged under Vice Admiral Porter, cannot be excelled by any institution in the country of a similar character, not excepting West Point. The arrangement of the walks and the planting of trees, shrubbery, &c., is unparalelled.

At a great floricultural show in Ghent recently, there were, in a double white camelia, 1,500 blooms expanded, and an equal number in bud; on a plant of C. Chandlerii, 1,000 expanded and many in bud, with a like number on a plant of C. Imbricata. These plants formed cones about fifteen feet through at the base, and an equal height. They were all very shabby plants in pots ten years ago.

CITY AND SUBURBAN.

The Primary Meetings of Next Saturday—Error Corrected.

The hours for voting in the boroughs and cities are from 3 o'clock to 7 o'clock. p. m., not 5 to 7 p. m., as heretofore printed. The error is fortunately discovered in time for notice to reach all concerned, whose attention we invite to this correction accordingly.

Daily Prayer Meeting—From 12 M. to 12:30 o'clock at the Methodist Church, Fifth street, next door to GAZETTE office.

General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church.

EIGHTH DAY—MORNING SESSION.

Synod met at half-past nine o'clock, and was opened with prayer by the Moderator. Minutes of yesterday afternoon and evening read and approved.

Dr. McMaster rose to a question of privilege. He had been addressed through the Commercial in relation to the hymn, a part of which he had quoted in his speech. It was first published in Cincinnati by the Methodist Book Concern, and was condemned by the leading papers of that body in New York. He was not aware of these facts. He did not certainly mean to say that any of the bodies in Pittsburgh would sing such a hymn.

Reports of committees on the records of several Presbyteries presented and accepted.

Dr. Scott presented, at the request of Mr. Stuart, the certificate ot his attending physician, as follows:

PITTSBURGH, May 27, 1868.

I certify that Mr. Geo. H. Stuart is now under my professional care for a violent attack of spasmodic asthma. I have advised him to remain in his room until he can leave the city, which I think he should do as soon as possible. I do not hesitate to say that he cannot attend the session of Synod, with which he is connected, this afternoon, without danger to his life, and I have advised him accordingly.

Very Respectfully,

JAMES KING, M. D.

Rev. A. G. Wylie, without being moved by the certificate, but on the letter received yesterday afternoon, withdrew the statement he made yesterday afternoon.

Dr. Scott wished to know if all delegates in Synod—whether principals or alternates—should receive mileage from the incidental fund of Synod. It was suggested that this could be settled by private conference.

Moved by Dr. McLeod that the vote be taken on the question before the Synod at a quarter before twelve o'clock, and that the clerk be instructed to notify Mr. Stuart of the fact.

Dr. Wylie thought the notice would be of no use, as Mr. Stuart had been positively prohibited from appearing.

Rev. Mr. McDowell was willing to give the whole time to the friends of Mr. Stuart to speak in his behalf.

Dr. Wylie hoped ample time would be given.

Dr. G. W. B. McLeod said unless this course was adopted the vote would be baffled altogether.

Mr. Alexander Kerr believed the law had been violated, and he would vote for the first resolution, but he could not vote for the suspension. Some people had discovered their weakness on this subject, and they had come here as tailors to clothe them. For his part he had never engaged in the business.

Dr. McMaster said he desired to offer a few additional remarks on the subject. Fletcher of Salton, said, "Let me make the ballads of the country and I care not who makes the laws." God's appointment for his own worship and the abiding or not abiding by this appointment cannot be a little matter. He had already read the law, and he need not refer to it again. There is no ambiguity in it. It is to the exclusion of all imitations and uninspired compositions. Up to 1853 none doubted the law. The defection has taken place since that time. The Synod did wrong in not nipping the thing in the bud. These men have made frequent attempts to change the law. The first effort was by endeavoring to corrupt the Church. Then by endeavoring to make the standards to conform to the defection, The standard was reaffirmed at Xenia, and substantially in New York last year. The law is not, then, a nullity. The mere declaration of law is not now sufficient. That there is law must be shown by inflicting the penalty. There was an attempt to stir up prejndice against the law and excite sympathy for a man of mark, as being persecuted—a man who came in riding on his horse like a Metador with his short sword. At this point the time expired.

Mr. William Ray said the resolution was so important that he could not, in justice to his pastor, Mr. Stewart, his friends and himself, remain silent. He did not think the resolution would promote the cause intended.

Rev. Samuel Wylie made a few remarks against the paper.

Rev. Dr. Crawford remarked that it had been said that George H. Stuart had entered the Church avowing the principles which he holds on the subject of Psalmody. He knew the time when he entered the Church and was made an Elder. The late Dr. Wylie had educated him (Dr. C.), and he knew George H. Stuart never could have entered the Church making such avowals. Dr. Wylie never advocated any such sentiments in his presence, and if he had held them, he would no doubt have revealed them. The law was both clear and definite. Dr. Wylie had accused him with sleeping when he was making his wonderful speech, but not in heaven. No, sir, he was still frail humanity on the earth. He was not asleep, but if he had been asleep he would have been excusabbe, for he had heard the same speech four times, and he hoped he would never hear it again.

Rev. Archibald Thompson said he believed it was his duty not to give a silent vote on the subject. Mr. Harshaw said "the people didn't know where their pastors were." He could assure the house that on the question before the court the Eastern Presbytery was a unit. If the law of the church is a dead letter, let it have a decent funeral and a minister present. He would be willing to leave the matter, however, in the hands of the representative members.

Rev. Dr. Scott could have said as much as any other man on the original and appellate jurisdiction of the Synod. Synod never assumed original jurisdiction, only in two cases. The one was in 1835; the other in the case of Rev. D. Kennedy, on a similar charge to that now made against George H. Stuart. But in Kennedy's case the Pittsburgh Presbytery was ordered to libel him, and try him for a violation of the law. The Presbytery found him guilty and reported so to the General Synod.

Dr. Thophilas Wylie said the useless laws should be repealed.

Dr. T. W. J. Wylie said the question of property was involved. That is it, sir. It is not psalmody and communion, but who shall control the First Reformed Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia. It would be robbery to take away the church property from those who built it. Mr. Stuart's friends had given eighty-seven per cent. and the protestors thirteen. This is an attempt to drive us out of the church. A brother said in relation to Union he would "follow the flag." Then there was no principle in it. If he did not give his influence against the case of Kennedy he regretted it. He gave a casting vote in this church against communion some years ago, and he was sorry for it. He could not ascertain what the law of the church was. It might be that Mr. Stuart had sung portions of Scripture, and had not therefore violated the law of the church. If this resolution passes it will be the death knell of the church. Doors of a thousand churches will be open to receive him, if he is cast out here. They might all regret certain things, but he showed his magnanimity in voluntary apologizing for what he had said. Cut off the head of Geo. H. Stuart, and you must cut off many heads. You will only leave in one church about six men. In others a solitary individual may say, "I only am left!" He had not spoken as Mr. Stuart's representative. He only spoke as his friend, as his pastor.

The votewas about being taken when Dr. Wylie presented a paper from Geo. H. Stuart. The following is the paper:

To the Moderator of the General Synod of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, in session at Pittsburgh:

I hereby solemnly deny each and all of the allegations and charges contained in the preamble and resolutions offered by Rev. A. G. Wylie in manner and form as they are alleged, and I protest against the right of Synod to pass such preamble and resolutions and ask that this my denial and protest may be entered on the minutes.

GEO. H. STUART.

Pittsburgh, May 28th, 1868.

The vote was taken on the resolution and resulted as follows: Ayes, 28; nays, 15; not voting, 6.

Dr. Wylie gave notice that he would protest.

Dr. McLeod gave notice that he would hand in his reasons for his vote.

Synod adjourned, Rev. A. G. Wylie concluding by prayer.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Synod met at three o'clock and was opened with prayer by the Moderator. Minutes read and approved.

Dr. Sterrett asked Synod to excuse him from fulfilling his appointment as a delegate to the General Assembly (N. S.) now in session in Harrisburg, in view of the action of Synod in the morning. He was excused.

Dr. McAuley offered the following paper which was seconded by Dr. Sterrett:

Resolved, That General Synod hereby directs its subordinate judicatories to proceed in the exercise of discipline with any and all of its members who use other than the one hundred and fifty psalms in the version approved by this Church in the worship of God in their or other Churches or unite in communion with other evangelical Christians.

Resolved, That ministers in connection with churches which use hymns shall not be admitted into our pulpits and that our ministers and members are hereby directed not to attend or engage in any services where hymns of human composition are used in the worship of God.

Dr. Douglas asked the mover to admit the following, to come in immediately after the second resolution.

Resolved, That all merchants, members of the Reformed Presbyterian Church, are hereby prohibited from having any commercial dealings with infidels.

Resolved, That all our ministers and elders, members of this Synod, are hereby required to return home on foot, and not travel over the roads of such godless companies as violate the divine law contained in the Fourth Commandment, in running trains on the Lord's Day.

Dr. McLeod moved that this subject be indefinitely postponed.

The previous question was called for, but not ordered by Synod.

At this point there was a running debate, which was of no public interest.

Pooceeded to devotional exercises, Rev. John Alford in the chair. The following gentlemen led in the religious exercises: Dr. Sterrett, Dr. Wilson, Rev. M. Harshaw and Elder Alexander Kerr.

Resumed business. Dr. Wilson was opposed to the resolution. They should not go too far. The paper would segregate Synod from the Churches of the land. The churches in Cincinnati do not intercommune. This Synod wished grace, mercy, and peace to all the churches. He hoped they would co-operate more than ever before with all evangelical christians.

The motion to indefinitely postpone was carried by a large vote.

Rev. A. J. Wylie presented the following resolution:

Resolved, That all sessions and Presbyteries under the care of this General Synod are hereby directed to carry out the law of the Church on the subjects of psalmody and communion in all cases properly coming before them, in accordance with the law of Synod and its deliverance on these subjects at this present meeting.

The previous question was called for and agreed to.

The ayes and noes were called on the resolution, and were as follows: Ayes, 25; noes, 3; not voting, 9.

Rev. W. S. Bratton moved that Synod adjourn to-morrow at 12 o'clock M.

Rev. A. Thompson moved that Synod adjourn to-morrow at 6 o'clock P. M.

These motions were withdrawn, and it was resolved that all speeches be limited to five minutes.

Rev. J. F. Hill requested to be excused from representing Synod at the Old School General Assembly, now in session at Albany, New York. He was excused.

Rev. Robert McMillan, alternate delegate, to the same body, made a similar request. Request granted.

Rev. W. S. Bratton asked to be excused from serving as a delegate to the New School Assembly. Request granted.

The clerk read the report of the Committee on Discipline, on the case of the First Church, Philadelphia. It was received and made the order of the day for Friday morning.

The report of the Treasurer of the Theological Seminary was read by the stated clerk. Referred to the Auditing Committee.

The Treasurer's reports of the Board of Domestic and Freedmen's Mission was read by Mr. James C. Millan, and referred to the Auditing Committee.

Synod adjourned to meet in the evening at eight o'clock.

EVENING SESSION.

Synod met at eight o'clock, and was opened with the usual formalities.

SUBJECT OF UNION.

Dr. McMaster presented an amendment to the first resolution of the paper, which he presented some days since. The amendment recommended the appointment of a committee of five in accordance with the expressed wish of the National Union Convention.

The matter was discussed at great length.

Rev. A. J. Wylie offered the following amendment:

Resolved, That General Synod, notwithstanding its disapprobation of the manner of the organization of the National Union Convention, and by the basis which it adopted, accedes to the invitation made by the Philadelphia Convention, this Synod appoint a Committee of five persons to meet similar Committees from other churches represented in the Convention, that the difficulties in the way of organic union, if possible, may be overcome.

Dr. Crawford read a long paper on the subject. He did not think they could unite with the Old or New School, or Cumberland Presbyterian Church. He did not think the Reformed Presbyterian Synod desired to meet them on a Union platform. He thought something might be done of a practical character toward Union in the United Presbyterian Assembly.

The amendment was lost. The paper (reported a few days since) with the exception of the first resolution, which was so modified as to recommend the appointment of a Committee of five, was adopted as a whole.

Synod then adjourned to meet this morning at half-past nine o'clock, Rev. W. H. Reid concluding by prayer.

Adjourned Sale.—On account of the inclemency of the weather the sale of that two-story new brick house with three acres of ground attached, situated at the foot of Squirrel Hill road, within ten minutes walk of Laughlin Station, on the Connellsville road, was postponed until Tuesday, June 2d at 3½ o'clock P. M. on the premises. Cars leave at 3 o'clock. See advertisement of Smithson, Vanhook & McClelland.

Also, a petition for water on Beech street. Referred to the Water Committee.

Mr. Reiter a petition for the grading and paving of Shields street, Referred to the Street Committee.

RESOLUTIONS;

Mr. Philips offered the following reoso-lution:

Resolved, That the Committee on engines, be authorized to purchase the horse, harness, and hose carriage now owned by the Hope Fire Company.

Mr. A. D. Smith moved that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Engines, with instructions to report to Councils the amount asked by the company for the property, and also whether the horse and hose carriage were not purchased with money subscribed by the citizens of the First ward for that purpose. The motion was adopted.

Mr. A. Patterson offered a resolution authorizing the Committee on Wharves and Landings to have five posts placed on the wharf, between Locust and Walnut streets. Referred to the Committee on Wharves and Landings.

Mr. Krebbs offered a resolution providing for the appointment of Commissioners to assess dan ages for the widening of McFadden street, from the West Pennsylvania Railroad to Bank lane, from ten to twenty-five feet. Referred to the Street Committee with instructions to report.

Mr. Callery offered a resolution authorizing the Chairman to appoint a Committee to ascertain what officers in the Eighth ward (formerly Duquesne Borough) were entitled to hold over under the law. Referred to the Finance Committee with instructions to act in the premises.

UNFINISHED BUSINESS.

The business transacted in Common Council at the previous meeting, and not reached in Select Council, was next taken up and concurred in with the following exceptions:

A resolution instructing the Committee on Engines to purchase the horse and hose carriage owned by the Hope Fire Company, which was adopted in C. C. May 14th, was on motion of Mr. Hall non-concurred in. C. C. adhered to former action and asked a Committee of Conference, and Messrs. Clark, Voeghtly and Hanna appointed. Messrs. Smith and Black appointed in S. C. The Committee recommend that the resolution be referred to the Committee on Engines with instructions to report to Councils the price asked for the property to be purchased, and their report was adopted.

A resolution adopted in C. C., May 14th, authorizing a joint committee to be appointed for the purpose of making inquiry relative to the election of councilmen in the Eighth ward, and report as to who was entitled to seats, was next taken up, and non-concurred in. C. C, adhered to former action and asked for a committee of conference. In S. C., on motion of Mr. Hall, the resolution was laid on the table.

In all business of Select Councils not otherwise noted, Common Council concurred.

Common Council.

Members present—Messrs. Brown, Comley, Clark, Groetzinger, Hanna, Hastings, Hochuly, Kunkle, Lindsay, Megraw, Mayer, McDonald, McNeill, Ober, Reynolds, Reed, Saints, Seidle, Tate, Voeghtly, White, Warner.

Mr. McNeill was called to the chair, and the minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

Mr. Hastings offered resolutions authorizing the erection of gas lamps, one in the Third ward and one on the corner of Whiteoak alley and Locust street, also for laying of iron culverts on North avenue. They were respectively referred to the Committee on Gas and Streets.

Mr. Groetzinger presented a petition for a foot walk on Butler plank road from Island bridge to the foot of Troy Hill. Referred to Street Committee.

Mr. Warner offered a resolution instructing the erection of gas lamps in the order of the dates on which Councils authorize them. Adopted.

The President now called up a resolution authorizing the purchase of the Hope Hose carriage and horse. S. C. had con-concurred in its passage.

Mr. Hanna moved adherence to former action and was supported by Messrs. Megraw and Comley, who asserted that it would be but mere justice to make the purchase, inasmuch as the company would be simply placed on an equal footing with the remainder of the fire department. The horse and hose carriage are the property of the company.

The matter was finally referred back to the Committee to ascertain further particulars.

The President read the non-concurrence of Select Council in the passage of a resolution authorizing the appointment of a Committee to enquire by what right the late election was held in Duquesne borough. C. C. adhered to its former action and appointed Messrs. Meyran, McDonald and Hanna, a Committee of Conference.

Mr. McDonald offered a resolution instructing the laying of a water pipe on Bidwell street, northward from Franklin street, 150 feet. Referred to Water Committee.

Adjourned.

PITTSBURGH, May 28, 1868.

EDITORS GAZETTE: Will you oblige a great many persons by calling the attention of the Street Commissioner to the TERRIBLE condition of Penn street, from St. Clair down to Water street? It is absolutely unfit for use, and there appears as yet no evidence that the Commissioner is aware of the fact. The same may be said of several other prominent streets. There seems to me no reason why the repairs should not be commenced at once, and a sufficient force of workmen kept at it, in order that our streets may be made passable.

The "oldest inhabitant" fails to recollect the time when our streets were in such a bad condition, or when less effort was made to keep them in ordinary repair.

I have waited for weeks, on the appearance of the Commissioner's squad of pavers, and could wait no longer in silence. The patience of Job himself would long ago have been exhausted. Yours,

PAVEUR.

Second Ward Grant Club will meet at their rooms this evening at half past seven o'clock. Punctual attendance is requested.

Another Accident.

An accident occurred to the mail train on the Pan Handle Railroad, which left this city at 2.15, at Cemetery Crossing, about seven miles from the city, at three o'clock yesterday morning. The train had reached the above point, and was running at an ordinary rate of speed, when the cow-catcher of the locomotive struck the end of a plank in the crossing which had been raised in some manner. The locomotive was lifted off the track, and the tender, postal car, baggage and express cars were also thrown off and wrecked. The engineer, Mr. Glord, was thrown under the locomotive, and half an hour elapsed before he could be extricated. One of his feet was so severely scalded that his toes will have to be amputated. He was otherwise injured but not seriously. The fireman was also considerably scalded but not dangerously. The passengers all escaped unhurt. The trains on the road were delayed for considerable time, but the track is now clear and the trains running regular.

Another Flowing Well.

On Monday night last a well situated on the flat on Oil Creek, about two miles below this place, suddenly commenced flowing oil, gas and water. Altogether about twenty barrels of oil were produced by six o'clock yesterday morning and since then the flow of water and gas has been continuous. The well has been abandoned for over two years, and the engine house and rig were taken away some time ago. The flow was first discovered at about nine o'clock at night. The well is now in charge of Messrs. Adam Carr and William Robinson, who, we are informed, will retube and pump it if it should not flow oil during the next day or two.—Titusville Herald.

False Pretence.

Joseph Loutner made information before Alderman Mullin, yesterday, charging Adam Newman with obtaining goods under false pretence. Loutner keeps a hardware store on Federal street, Allegheny, and he alleges that the accused came to his establishment and represented that Mr. C. C. Smith had directed him to come there and purchase a shovel and pair of hinges on his account. The articles were given to him and charged to Mr. Smith, who refused to pay for them, stating that he had given no such orders. The accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

Crossings..

It is a subject of gratulation that some attention is being given by the street authorities to the street crossings. A little is done and a great deal remains to be done. It is important where expense is incurred in making these crossings that they should serve the purpose intended. Recently crossings have been made on Smithfield at the corners of Fifth which, although made of good material it will be seen on every wet day are to flat, and do not answer their purpose. The Street Commissioner ought to see this and elevate their grade at once, as they are they afford no protection from the mud of the cartway.

Fire in Allegheny.—About half-past nine o'clock yesterday morning flames were discovered issuing from the dwelling house occupied by Mr. L. F. Snowden, on Rebecca street, near Grant avenue. An alarm was given from Box 16 and the fire department were promptly on the ground and distinguished the fire before any material damage was done. The fire was communicated to the house from a bake oven, which was in use in the morning. The loss was trifling.

Teachers' Association.—The Pittsburgh Teachers' Association will meet on Saturday next at 10½ o'clock, A. M., in the Central High School, corner of Wood and Sixth streets. The two Associations that formerly existed, having been consolidated, it is hoped every teacher in the city will enter zealously into the work of making this association what it should be, the true exponent of the worth and intelligence of our teachers.

Goods Identified.—Among the goods found at the house of Mrs. Marinda Palmer, whose arrest we mentioned in yesterday's issue, was a piece of blue silk containing thirty yards, which has been identified by Paul H. Hacke as having been stolen from his store, An information for larceny was made and the defendant was held to bail.

The Cathedral Concert.

The very large audience which last evening, at St. Paul's Cathedral, enjoyed the music provided for them by the amateur vocalists under the skilful direction of Prof. Schenuit, comprised all classes and all religious denominations. The admirers of good music were there in force, and their highest expectations seemed fully realized. It is not often that Pittsburgh affords such a programme, so artistically executed by native talent and effectively rendered in such an edifice as the Catholic Cathedral. As such, last evening's concert was the musical event of the year. We do not propose any invidious specifiations among artists who, without exception, acquitted themselves most successfully; especially would this be an ungrateful, as well as unnecessary offense against good taste, so far as the ladies of the choir are concerned. Let us be content with giving expression to the general voice that "La Mia Letizia" of Mr. Apfelbaum seemed to be accepted as the triumph of the evening, although each of the ladies had so strong a party in her favor that, upon a show of hands, or upon the bravos, had these been permitted by the decorum of the place, it is possible that either one of the three might have earned the greatest plaudits. The pecuniary result of the concert must have been satisfatory.

What are Medals Worth ?

The following articles will show if the judges are not right? Sewing machines are a matter of interest to those who need them. We present some facts that they should bear in mind. In visiting the various offices, each agent claims his to be the best, and it sometimes appears hard for buyers to make a choice. But there is one thing certain, the Weed Sewing Machine is the best. It has been sent to the same houses where others have been sent, and after a fair trial of both machines, the others were sent back and the Weed kept. The operators of each machine have met and tested, and invariably the Weed has been kept in preference to the others.

Another strong evidence of the superiority of the Weed Machine, is that it has borne off the palm at Paris, and the various State and County Fairs in 1867. And in fact, by paying a visit to the Weed office, 112 Grant street, those wanting to buy can see new machines of other makes, at less than half price, which have been taken in part pay for the Weed Machine.

Still another evidence of the superiority is, the Weed has compelled other machines to be taken back by the dozen, and in no case has there been a Weed Machine returned. Those in want of a good machine will do well to call on the agent, Maj. R. H. Long, 112 Grant street, and see for themselves.

The Weed does not take fits or spells when you want it to sew.

Felonious Assault and Battery.

William Barry, a teamster, employed by Mr. Moorhead in hauling metal from the yard on Grant street, while engaged in loading his wagon was attacked by Peter Gillen and John Kissack, who drive for Mr. Arthurs, and beaten in a shameful manner. They advised him to drive his team out of the way, which he refused to do, when, as he alleges, Gillen struck him with a club, knocking part of his scalp off, and the other attacked him with a knife. The injured man was taken to the office of a physician on Penn street, and received proper attentions, after which he repaired to Alderman McMasters' offiee and made information charging Gillen and Kissack with aggravated assault and battery. A warrant was issued for their arrest.

Highway Robbery.

An insurance agent, residing at Hookstown, Beaver county, was robbed on Wednesday night of two thousand dollars. It appears he had been in this city and returned on the evening train to Rochester, and started to Hookstown, some three miles distant, on foot, and when within half a mile of his destination was attacked by two men, one of whom struck him with a club and knocked him down, after which they rifled his pockets, taking therefrom $2,000, and left him lying in the road insensible. He was discovered some time afterwards and removed to his home, where he now lies in a critical condition.
